NEARS SOLUTION

Whether the great circular depression near Coon Butte, Arizona, is the crater of an extinct volcano or evidence of the falling of a mighty meteor—a question which has puzzled scientists for a quarter of a century—may soon be determined.

Miners employed by D. M. Barringer, a Philadelphia scientist, are said to have located 1,400 feet underground a great mass of metal which is held to be a meteor. The Barringer workmen are down 1,600 feet in a shaft, their purpose being to come up under the big metal body, which borings show to be ninety per cent iron and seven per cent nickel with tracings of platinum and iridium.

The present operations are the outcome of plans begun a quarter of a century ago when the Philadelphia scientist visited the scene, and, after giving it extended study, pronounced it the mark left by a big meteor. During the past twenty-five years thirty holes have been drilled in the bottom of the great hole and a shaft sunk to the depth of 200 feet without encountering more than mere bits of meteoric iron. Now the claim is made that the mistake was made in assuming that the meteor hit the earth from straight overhead. Instead, it is now held that it struck the earth at an angle, and the Barringer experts justify this latter view by the finding of the mass of metal into which they have bored not directly beneath the hole, but about 1,600 feet to the south of it.

If it should be proved that the mass of metal into which the workmen have been drilling is a meteor, it will be easily the largest ever known to have struck the earth, for while the great Siberian meteor may have been larger before it exploded upon hitting our atmosphere, it struck the earth in thousands of pieces and not as one mass as did this one in Arizona, assuming, of course, that the Arizona metal deposit is a meteor.

Some scientists reject the meteor theory, and claim the Arizona hole is a volcano crater for the reason that there are stones such as might have been thrown up by a volcano around its entire circumference and in none of them any evidence of meteoric iron.

Possibly were these scientists to recall their boyhood days and remember how rims would be made about the holes made by them when they threw stones in the soft mud along river and creek banks they might see more merit in the meteor theory. The Arizona depression is 4,000 feet in diameter, its walls extending from 120 to 160 feet above the surface and its bottom being 400 feet below the surface of the surrounding plateau. Would it be unreasonable to assume that a mass of metal sufficiently large to make an almost circular hole 4,000 feet in diameter and 400 feet deep might throw up a rim of rock and earth from 120 to 160 feet high? And then there is another point. In all the world there is no known volcano crater of anything like 4,000 feet diameter which has a wall extending only 160 feet above the surface of the surrounding territory. Volcano craters are not built along that line.

In any event, whether the great hole is decided to be a volcano crater or the work of a meteor, the finding of such a mass of iron and more valuable metals as has been located should make the present work of excavation a profitable one to the Philadelphia scientist—financially in one case, scientifically in the other, even though it never be worked for its commercial possibilities.

What Others Say

THE MEANING OF "NO"

Superintendent R. D. George of the Fairmount Children's Home, at a service in a local church on last Sunday evening, said that a child should be taught the meaning of the word "No" before it is two years old. In his discussion of the treatment of children, he amplified the statement by saying that if a child is not so taught before the age of two years there is a small chance of it ever learning to accept denial of its wants in any graceful manner.

The speaker seems to hold that at this point lies the crux of much of the difficulty at home, much of the unruliness of children who have grown into their school age or beyond it. They have always "had their own way" and mean to continue to have it.

They have been able, in their childhood days to argue their parents into giving them what they want or allowing them to do what they ask or, more generally, what they want to do without asking. The philosophy of Mr. George would hold that when, in your judgment, you should say "no" to your child, that word should settle the matter without further controversy or further question. It should learn that there is a finality.

The modern home is not thus run. The child asks, is refused and then proceeds to cry, argue or take such a "fit" that the parent yields. That is the small leak in the dyke, but like that leak, it keeps widening until there is a yawning chasm in the "home rule", in fact, until it is the rule of the child and not of the parent.

There has been a soft pedagogy extant for enough years to leave its impress to the effect we should allow children to "grow up naturally" and they will correct their own faults in older years! This idea is the child of laziness, indifference to the future of the children, or crass ignorance. Nature nowhere acts thus with any of the kingdoms beneath the level of man, as any sane person can readily see, and it is presuming much on nature to expect it to take the flaws out of our children that we have even helped to weave into the warp and woof of life. No one expects nature to take the weeds out of the corn nor the bugs off the potatoes. It doesn't trim your lawn nor pave your streets. It doesn't cut your hair nor shave your whiskers. Nature will not train your child—it leaves that little job to the parents and if they fail the failure is personal to them and the loss is to the child.

Superintendent George is right and we are not at all sure but a very great number of the children would be better taught in such a home as he maintains at Fairmount than they are being taught at home, where they are handed over to others or allowed to "bring up" themselves—East Palestine Daily Leader

EDISON'S TYPE BEING REPLACED

Research Man King Of Scientific Area, Is Statement

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—Thomas A. Edison is an "old era inventor." He is being replaced today by a new scientific era, the king of which is a research man.

These assertions were made by Dr. William E. Wickenden, president of the Case School of Applied Science, whose members of the American Society for Steel Treating, sponsors of the National Metal Congress, here last night at a banquet during which Edison was made an honorary member of the society.

"Edison was perhaps the greatest example of the old era inventor," Dr. Wickenden said. "He worked toward his goal by deduction. The king of the new era is the research man. He makes no direct attempt at invention, but instead develops a complete and intensive knowledge of his subject and produces inventions as the outgrowth of his research."

Harvey S. Firestone, of Akron, a lifelong friend of the famous inventor, accepted the honorary membership to the society in behalf of Edison, who was unable to attend because of illness. In accepting, Firestone praised Edison as the greatest man of his day and age.

The Henry Marion Howe medal for 1929 was conferred at the banquet upon Dr. C. R. Wohrmann of the United States Bureau of Standards, Washington, for the best paper submitted to Transactions, the society's official organ, during the year. The medal was accepted by Dr. Albert Saurer of Harvard university since Dr. Wohrmann is now in Europe.

The past president's medal was awarded to Frederick G. Hughes of Bristol, Conn., who preceded Dr. Zay Kedzie as head of the society.

DAMAGE SUITS AGAINST UNION

Employers Ask for Sum After Walkout In Cleveland

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—A suit for $350,000 damages was on file in common pleas court here today by the Building Trades Employers Association against local units of the International Union of Steam and Operating Engineers.

The suit follows a walk-out on several large jobs of the Cleveland Union Terminal Co. last Monday by hoisting engineers on orders from international officers. Plaintiffs in the suit also include the Landoff-Bicknell Co. and the J. H. Libby Co., contractors on the $3,000,000 Medical Arts building, which is one of the terminal projects on which the hoisting engineers have stopped work.

The reason for the walk-out, according to John S. Sisler, assistant business agent of the hoisting engineers here, is not known. Sisler said today he ordered the men off the job Monday under orders from Charles Hudell, of Boston, international president of the union.

W. P. Carroll, manager of the Building Trades Employers Association said today that he believed the walk-out order was issued here in retaliation for the refusal of Chicago contractors to recognize the new Chicago local, a number of the contractors here having jobs in that city.

The suit here recalls the famous Danbury Hatters case several years ago at Danbury, Conn., which resulted in a decision by the courts that the union men were responsible for damages. The Danbury case was probably one of the most widely discussed labor suits in the country.

The usual procedure in situations of this kind is for employers to seek relief through use of the injunction. The injunction was not used in the union walk-out case here because employers believed that it might not be as effective since the walkout had already been completed.

SECRETARIES SPEAK

Mrs. Craig, Youngstown, supervisor of the children and the young peoples workers of the Mahoning Presbytery, was one of the speakers at a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. Ralph Housel was surprised with a dinner party Thursday evening at her home, Depot rd., honoring her birthday anniversary.

The party was arranged by her mother, Mrs. William Darlington, assisted by her aunt, Mrs. F. C. Duncan, and the guests were members of the Christian church choir and the Young Peoples class of the church.

The home was made attractive with flowers. A covered dish supper was a feature. The guests were served at two long tables ornamented with pink candles in crystal holders. There were two birthday cakes decorated with candles. Games were the chief diversion and those who won honors were Fred Beardmore, M. S. Arnold Lutes, Miss Ruth Zeigler and Miss Lena Beardmore.

Mrs. Ruth Berry and Meta McGave sang piano solos. Group singing was led by Arnold Lutes, Mrs. C. V. Rakestad and Miss Marion Jones.

Mrs. Housel received some lovely gifts. Miss Moorhead, of Zanesville, was an out-of-town guest.

STAR CLUB

Members of the Star club carried out a surprise for Mrs. Wilford

Mrs. Kaminsky's class, who were winners in a membership and attendance contest, conducted by the classes.

AT FULTS HOME

Mrs. and Mrs. W. L. Fults entered club associates Thursday evening at their home, North Union street.

Four tables were engaged at the bridge. High score honors in the games were shared by Mrs. Lee

Camp and Mrs. Gerald McKee. The hostess served lunch.

Mrs. Sheeley before her marriage this summer was Miss Dorothy Shinn of the Benton rd.

The time was enjoyed informally. Lunch was served, edibles for which were brought by the club members. The Misses Sheeley, sisters-laws of the honoree, were in-invited guests.

HOME CIRCLE CLUB

Twelve members of the Home Circle club attended a meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Barbara Capel, Washington st. Three tables were in play. Lunch was served after the games. Mrs. William Gabriel was included in the guest list. A supper was served on the lawn.

PLAY BRIDGE

Mrs. A. R. Jones, Tenth st., received her club associates Thursday afternoon at her home. Bridge was introduced. Two tables were in play. Mrs. Dwight McNab won the prize offered in the games. Lunch was a concluding pleasure. In two weeks the members will meet with the Misses Arnold Lutes, McKinley ave.

RAILROAD CAR
DEMAND HIGH

66,000 More Cars Will Be Used
In Last Quarter Of 1929
Than In 1928

Canton, O., Sept. 13.—Railroads, serving Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio, northern West Virginia and the panhandle district of Maryland, will be required to furnish 66,000 more freight cars during the remaining quarter of 1929 than a year ago for the transportation of commodities produced in the district.

This was indicated today by reports given at the closing session of the fall conference of the Allegany advisory board here.

Three hundred shippers and receivers of freight received this report which was given by representatives of more than a score of basic commodity producers of the Allegheny region.

Turkey Introduces
Up-to-Date Ideas

Constantinople, Sept. 13.—Another important step towards westernization has been taken by the Turks. A new code of penal procedure based on the German, has been introduced, bringing the legal system into line with modern ideas.

Other reforms recently introduced by Mustapha Kemal Pascha, the president, include the emancipation of women, the Latinization of the Turk's alphabet, universal adult education, and the compulsory adoption of family names in addition to surnames.

Further, the president has approved the introduction of European music and dances "Oriental music," he stated in a recent speech, "does not satisfy the modern Turkish soul."

The new penal code exists one which was far behind the times. The police are given additional powers, and they now come under the orders of the Attorney-General. Judges are deprived of the power of isolating untried prisoners from legal advice. The attorney-general is also empowered to take action against the police when necessary.

Romar Flying Boat
Makes Long Flight

Miss Olga Menn, prominent Chicago society leader, has written words and music to a new wedding song, "She has dedicated to Florence Trumbull when she becomes Mrs. John Coolidge."

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The marriage of Florence Trumbull and John Coolidge, Sept. 23, at Plainville, Conn., is to be distinguished by the singing of a brand-new wedding song, written especially for the occasion.

Olga Menn, Chicago society girl and friend of Miss Trumbull, is the author of both words and music to the song, "For Love's a Chain." Miss Menn will sing the composition, which she has dedicated to the bride, at the wedding.

Words to the new addition to musical wedding literature are:

It seems that some decree of Fate
Unites each heart unto its mate;

For years I've searched the whole world through;

But all in vain, till I met you,

Eternal love my soul has found,

And by eternal love is bound.

Chorus:

For love's a chain that binds my heart;

And ties my soul to yours, sweet-
heart;

Each end's a link is strong and true;

My love for you, is endless, too.

Yes, love's a chain that binds my
heart;

To have, to hold, to love, adore.

You are my own, for evermore.

Miss Menn's brother, Paul, also will attend the wedding. Other Chicago society folk at the ceremony will be Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sandgren, H. Miss Trumbull was maid of honor a year ago at the wedding of Mrs. Sandgren (Anna Mae Huston).

Great Britain May
Force Disarmament

Geneva, Sept. 13.—Great Britain evidently intends to force disarmament by land, sea and air to a definite issue.

This was strongly indicated by the announcement of Viscount Cecil of England, that he would address the third commission of the League of Nations this afternoon demanding that it hasten its work on preparation for a disarmament treaty and that a conference be summoned as soon as possible.

This commission was created to prepare the way for a preliminary disarmament conference.

Cleveland School
Building Damaged

Cleveland, O., Sept. 13.—Fire, which is believed to have originated in a basement housing tools and paint, swept the entire Kinsman school building on the Kinsman rd. south of here today, doing damage estimated by Cleveland fire officials at $25,000.

The blaze will prevent more than 200 children from attending school until temporary arrangements can be made.

Cause of the blaze is being investigated by fire department officials.

Pastors On Vacation
Become Dry Officers

Wichita, Kas., Sept. 13.—Wichita marrying parsons are apt to meet competition from the police department.

Where can we find a preacher?" hailed a voice from a car as a patrolman was walking his beat about town.

"Go to the police station, they'll fit you up," was the patrolman's answer.

At the police station Owen Walker, 21, Great Bend, Kas., and Nina Miller, 18, Sayre, Okla., and a group of friends left the car and entered.

Rev. R. R. Bach was spending his vacation as a member of the police "dry" squad.

Bach laid aside his gun and read the wedding ritual for the couple.

"With patrolmen all over town to rustle up business it ought to be a pretty good proposition for some preacher to stay at the police station each night," commented the Sergeant.

MULCH INCREASES

EARLY POTATO CROP

Straw mulch applied to potatoes after the plants were up at the Hamilton county, Ohio, experiment farm increased the yield 91 bushels per acre above the unmulched cultivated plots, according to John Busness, associate horticulturist in charge of potato investigations at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

The actual yield from the unmulched plots was 273 bushels per acre; from the plots mulched when planted, 363 bushels; and from the plots with the delayed mulch, 366 bushels. All the plots were planted in late March with certified Irish Cobbler seed and were harvested August 2.

A clean straw was used at the rate of 10 to 12 tons per acre, giving a mat four to six inches thick. This mat of straw was sufficient to keep down annual weeds, but such perennial weeds as thistle and morning glory came through it. The labor of applying and removing the straw was compensated by the saving in cultivation.

Straw mulch applied after the plants were up in 1928 increased the yield 23 per cent. Mulch applied immediately after planting was detrimental, reducing the yield nearly one-tenth.

From these and other experiments, Dr. Busness concludes that if straw is available at a low value it can be profitably applied as a mulch for early potatoes in southern Ohio. But it should be put on after the potatoes are up rather than at the time of planting.

The early mulch, he finds, delays germination and multiplication by keeping the soil too cool. The later mulch applied in early May after the soil is sufficiently warmed aids in retaining moisture and keeps the soil from becoming too warm during the hot weather of early summer when potatoes do best under cool moist conditions.

New England Views Modern Marketing

Hanover N. H., Sept. 13.—Modern trends in marketing and their significance will be the chief subject of discussion at the sixteenth quarterly meeting of the New England council, to be held at Dartmouth college September 3 and 4.

Professor Marvin T. Copeland of the Harvard school of business administration, author of the chapter on marketing in the report of the committee on recent economic changes in the United States, will lead the marketing discussion. The committee which investigated the recent economic changes in New England was headed by President Herbert Hoover.

Through the co-operation of President Ernest M. Hopkins and other officers of the college, an unusual program has been made possible. The meeting at Hanover reflects the desire for closer understanding between New England business men and New England educational institutions.

Governor Charles W. Thayer of New Hampshire, a member of the New Hampshire division of the council until his election to the governorship, plans to attend the meeting.

The Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests will hold its annual forestry conference at Hanover on September 4 and 5 in co-operation with state forestry departments of New Hampshire and Vermont. Members of the conference have been invited to remain and attend the council meeting.

Massachusetts Crop Report In Decrease

Boston, Sept. 13.—Al Massachusetts crops, with the exception of corn, potatoes and onions, show prospects of lower production than last year, according to the report issued jointly by the division of crop estimates of the U. S. government and the Massachusetts Department of agriculture.

Potatoes thrived on the hot weather which injured most of the other crops and the state crop is forecast at 1,962,000 bushels as compared with the 1928 output of 1,620,000 bushels.

The drop is quite noticeable in the potato crop which will not exceed 540,000 barrels as contrasted with 578,000 barrels harvested last year and the average of 668,000 barrels established over a five year period.

The peach crop likewise suffered a drop, while more grapes and pears are expected to reach the market than last year.

One of the greatest declines is remarked in the 1929 hay crop, which is forecast at 587,000 tons as compared with 717,000 tons in 1928 and 619,000 tons over the five year period.

Pasture conditions have been lowered considerably by the drought conditions. The 57 per cent figure for this season compares unfavorably with 107 per cent of last year and of the 86 per cent ten year average.

Massachusetts tobacco fields escaped the heat which raised havoc with the Connecticut farms and present conditions predict a crop of 9,567,000 pounds, an increase over the 1928 harvest of 9,462,000 pounds. The average crop is 10,761,000 pounds.

Falconet Statue Found In Moscow

Moscow, Sept. 13.—Etienne Maurice Falconet's famous statuette "Pygmalion and Galatea," a copy of which was recently sold in Paris for 100,000 francs, has been discovered in the basement storeroom of the Tretiakovsky gallery in Moscow. Search for the piece had been going on for a decade.

It was known to have been a part of the collection of the noted Russian painter and collector, Ossipovitch. During the revolution the entire Ossipovitch collection was stored away in the Tretiakovsky gallery and examined only recently.

Falconet came to Russia from Paris in 1753 and lived here for 20 years. During this time he made the famous equestrian statue of Peter the Great in Leningrad, still the finest monument in Russia, and "Pygmalion and Galatea."

Denver, Sept. 13.—Woman's vanity, creating a desire to be slender, and the present day diet fads contribute largely to deaths from tuberculosis, in the opinion of C. L. Newcomb of New York, assistant to the managing director of the National Association of Tuberculosis, who is here to make a survey of the tuberculosis situation.

Despite 25 years of effort, Newcomb says, very little has been done to reduce the death rate from the dread disease of women between 18 and 25 years of age. This age is the "neglected age."

"This diet fad is ruining the health of a good many women," he declared. "And young women who wear out their energy, already lowered by drastic reducing measures—by dancing and other strenuous pastimes, are only aiding the tuberculosis germ."

Newcomb attributes 29 per cent of the deaths of men between the ages of 45 and 50 years to the same disease, despite the fact that the death rate among men has decreased 50 per cent in the last 25 years.

Newcomb recommends Colorado climate for tuberculosis sufferers. "I came to Denver from New York in 1900 with only 30 days to live,"

AIR MAIL PILOT DIES IN CRASH

Aviator Loses Way In Fog While Making Southern Trip; Plane
Collides With Tower

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 13.—Lost in an early morning fog that blanketed this district, Sid Malloy, airmail pilot flying the Richmond-Atlanta route, was fatally injured today when his plane crashed into a radio tower at Fort McPherson, near here. Malloy was taken from the ship by stretcher only a minute before the gas tank exploded and the plane burst into flames.

The pilot died of injuries at the base hospital at the fort, however, an hour later.

Rhode Island Has Less Tuberculosis

Providence, Sept. 13.—Rhode Island showed a greater decline in the tuberculosis death rate since 1921 than any other New England or Middle Atlantic state, according to a survey recently completed by Dr. Harry Lee Barnes, superintendent of the state sanatorium.

The results of the investigation, published by the Rhode Island Tuberculosis association, showed that Cranston had the lowest death rate of any of the centers investigated, with Burrillville second and Warwick third.

Commenting on the fact that each of the towns showing an unusually low tuberculosis death rate is the home of a hospital for tubercular patients, Dr. Barnes pointed out that 20 years ago such a hospital was considered a menace to the community in which it was situated. "If the 'dream' of annual and physical examinations comes true," Dr. Barnes said, "our ability to find and save cases may be doubled."

Commenting upon the efficacy of a vaccine in treating tubercular cases he said, "What hope have we for a cure for tuberculosis comparable in promptness and effectiveness with the anti-toxin in diphtheria? Very little, I fear, yet we are not entirely without hope that vaccine may be found which will give healthy persons, and especially young children, some degree of immunity. The vaccine BCG has been given considerably in Europe, and many reports are favorable, but it is still in the experimental stage."

Body Found

Defiance, O., Sept. 13.—Authorities today were seeking to identify the body of a man found floating in the Maumee river late Thursday. The man was between 50 and 55 years old. The body had been in the water about a week.

Gardener-Slayer Faces Death Trial

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—Six witnesses appeared before the county grand jury here today as county prosecutors sought a first degree murder indictment against Michael Di Titta, 34-year-old gardener, who confessed slaying Mrs. Barbara Diebent, Innkeeper, Euclid Village resident.

Five of the witnesses are servants and members of the Irr family. They were questioned by Assistant County Prosecutor Emerick Freed.

Di Titta shot and killed Mrs. Innkeeper in the kitchen of her home yesterday because he was refused the pay of a gardener which he had held for 17 years with the Irr family.

Salvatore M. Lo Presti, defense counsel, said today he planned an insanity defense in behalf of his client. He described the case as pa-

Salary Question To Have Effect On Four Major League Stars

Three Probably Will Be Given Slice; Ruth To Ask For Increase

By DAVID J. WALSH

New York, Sept. 14.—In view of the fact that the boy friend, Mr. B. is having some trouble today, he will be willing to accept what it occurs to me that I can help by mentioning that Paul Waner and Lou Gehrig are said to be on the market at the end of the season.

The sport is cited only because it aid Mr. Ruth in reaching position. The three men named could not be out of baseball and baseball has been seen to get something out of them.

He got $25,000 from the Dodger, which has been worth somewhat less than $2,500. Waner indulged in a family strike in company with Brother Lloyd, both finding at a compromise figure that got more money than either and proceeded to play for baseball. Gehrig got and on occasions has played Columbia university. Base ball is in no mood to demands, no matter who gets him.

No Effect On Babe Ruth. Ruth justice, it must be admitted that the size of his head has had no visible effect on playing. He hasn't had the suggestion of a bad year and, in some respects, this year is his greatest.

It is said that Mr. Ruth $100,000 as his ar- or 1930. He merely would like to get $100,000.

Ohio College Football

Mont Starts Monday

Badger Outlook Hazy

Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin's hopes for a Big Ten championship this year are most remote. Coach Glen Thistlethwaite delayed today. Lack of reserve material and scarcity of veterans were listed as the principal reasons.

Stagg Optimistic

Chicago—Radiating optimism over chances for the University of Chicago squad, Coach A. A. Stagg today returned from the east to prepare for the start of his thirty-eighth coaching season here Monday.

Coaches Signed

Lafayette, Ind.—Two stars of Purdue's 1928 football eleven, Bert Dreyer of Cleveland, and Guy Mackey of New Albany, Ind., have been signed as coaches to assist Chester Wilcox with the boilermaker freshman squad.

Iowa Workouts

Iowa City, Ia.—An artificial football team will add zest to the university of Iowa's gridiron drills this fall, it was announced today. The "team" will be made up of wooden posts driven in the ground in the formation of a defensive eleven.

Reserve Team Heavy and Western Reserve unit, which lost only one Ohio game last season, will be one of the heaviest teams in the conference this season, according to Coach George. Even the ends average 170 pounds. All other candidates positions tip the scale at mark.

Cinci Drills Light

Cinci—The University of Cincinnati Bears have been in nothing but light practices, and the "long" grind in earnest Monday. Coach George has announced C. O. Benner, University of Illinois, and an assistant coach for his graduation, has arranged Bearcat camp to take the freshman squad.

Peden After Kicker
Coach Don Peden is determined to have a competent kicker on his Ohio University team this season, and William Gerald Strayer has nothing much but practice.

50 Dogs Expected In Dun Eden Hunt

More than 50 contestants are expected in the special coon hunt, which will be held at Dun Eden lake, starting at 9 a. m. Saturday. Dr. Gordon W. Dunn announced today. Some of the finest dogs in the country will participate in the affair.

Jesse Stahlsmith, of Salem, will be in charge of laying traps for the contests. Pot chases and speed races will be held. The event is expected to last all day tomorrow.

A silver loving cup and $75 in gold will be awarded to winners.

Terriers Defeat Quincy In Third Clash of Series

Canton, Sept. 13.—The Canton Terriers won their first game of the Class B "World Series" here yesterday when Johnny Pamorski, young Canton right-hander, allowed the Quincy club but six scattered hits, and paved the way for the 5-1 victory over the champions of the Three-eye league.

Canton made nine hits off Elmer Ambrose, the Quincy hurler. Four of these were for extra bases. Ambrose fanned seven men and passed only one, but the locals gave Pamorski great support.

The Canton pitcher allowed only two hits in the six innings. Only one man reached third besides the runner who scored Quincy's lone run, which was made in the third frame when Ambrose tripped and scored on Lewan's sacrifice fly.

NORTH RANDALL TO HOLD RACES

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—Big-line automobile race drivers of the country will return to the Cleveland district Sunday, Sept. 22, when the third officially sanctioned American Automobile Association race held in this territory in recent years is presented at North Randall track here.

The race will be a 100-mile event and since it has already received official approval of the contest board of the A. A. A. which governs all the leading automobile races in the United States, all the outstanding pilots of the country will be eligible.

"Follies Of 1929"

David Rollins and Sue Carol in WILLIAM FOX MOVIETONE FOLLIES of 1929

WILLIAM FOX FOLLIES OF 1929 ARE THE FEATURED ATTRACTION AT THE ROYAL THEEE DAYS, STARTING TONIGHT

FOLLIES OF 1929
A sensational achievement of the talking screen, the William Fox Movietone Follies of 1929, made its bow last night to an enthusiastic audience at the Royal theater, where it will remain for a three days run.

The first Follies ever attempted by the motion picture industry, Fox Movietone Follies, definitely established the fact that Broadway has plenty to worry about. This first challenge to the true type of stage revue proves the adaptability of the new screen medium for this kind of entertainment, hitherto confined almost exclusively to the larger cities because of the prohibitive expense of transporting a large company of players about the country.

This all-talking musical comedy sings, dances, talks, sighs and laughs. It is everything that a stage musical revue is, with the addition of the numerous advantages the motion picture enjoys over the stage.

The numbers are expertly and artistically staged, the principals are talented and youthful and the music is original and provocative.

There is a highly interesting story interwoven into the texture of the revue with expert hands which added greatly to the enjoyment of last night's audience.

With such a galaxy of talent and beauty, it is difficult to single out any particular numbers for especial praise, although "That's You, Baby," "The Breakaway," "Walkin' With Susie" and "Pearl of Old Japan" received the most applause.

Baritone Songs
"That's You, Baby" serves to introduce David Percy, handsome young baritone who has a voice of grand opera caliber. He sings melodiously and with a clarity that makes every word understandable. Sharon Lynn, young Texas actress who has appeared in several Fox productions, including the all-talking picture "Speakeasy," plays opposite Percy in this number and reveals a contralto voice of rare charm.

This number also is the vehicle for the debut of Sue Carol and David Rollins, popular youngsters of the silent screen, in musical comedy roles. Miss Carol has a surprisingly sweet voice and Rollins, too, acquitted himself with honors. Two children, Adele DeBarr and Jackie Cooper, add a comedy touch that is priceless. The finale of the number brings Misses Carol, Lynn and Dixie Lee and Messrs. Percy, Rollins, Frank Richardson and Bobby Burns together in a harmony septette that brought forth an ovation from the opening night's audience.

HER PRIVATE LIFE
A dramatic role of great power is portrayed by Billie Dove in her newest First National-Vitaphone picture "Her Private Life," which is at the State.

Opening in London, the story moves to the colorful background of English country life where Miss Dove portrays a titled English woman. Then the action swings to New York, where the heroine is shown pawnning her last jewels so that she may eat. Only at the end does the light of happiness and love dawn upon the horizon.

It is a role that is by far the most difficult that this beauty of the screen has portrayed, and the coming of "Her Private Life" will be awaited with interest by her many admirers in this city.

Miss Dove has a new leading man in "Her Private Life." He is Walter Pidgeon, former stage favorite and he is ideal as the handsome lover in this story. Pidgeon sings the theme song.

The fine supporting cast includes Montagu Love, Edgerton Herbert, Roland Young, Thelma Todd, Zasu Pitts, Mary Forbes and Brandon Hurst.

"Her Private Life" was directed by Alexander Korda, the noted elastic word in the whole culinary vocabulary. And most of the dishes which include "cream" as a description by no means contain the item as the cow knows it. All is not cream that's so named. In fact very little of it.

In fact, as we know, "cream" means basically a combination of milk, butter and flour cooked to a paste, and true enough, looking like its namesake to the uncritical eye.

In dessert cream may also mean a combination of milk, butter and flour as a base, to which sweet flavorings are added. Or it may be an egg and creamstarch mixture. Or a gelatin and milk mixture, with or without the addition of eggs. And when this combination is properly mixed and flavored there is a suggestion of cream. In fact, many can't tell the difference in the finished dish. A great advantage, inasmuch as fresh cream is somewhat more expensive than the blend which is named after it.

Here is a basic recipe for pie filling which may be varied in many ways:

Cream Pie Filling

2 cups milk
3 eggs
4 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt flavoring
Scald the milk in a double boiler. Dilute the flour and salt in a half cup of cold water and add to milk. Cook for 15 minutes, stirring constantly, then add beaten egg yolks and flavoring to the taste. Cook for five minutes, then set aside to cool. Pour into the baked pie crust when cool, cover with whipped egg whites and place on ice. This will take about eight hours to harden.

Chocolate Ice-Box Cake

3 eggs
2 squares bitter chocolate
1/2 cup powdered sugar
2 cups top milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 sponge cake

Place chocolate in the top of a double boiler and when melted add the milk gradually. Stir constantly. Add beaten egg yolks, continue cooking a few minutes, then remove from fire and set aside to cool. When cold fold in the stiffly beaten whites and vanilla.

Lime a loaf cake pan with waxed paper. Place slices of sponge cake in the bottom and around the sides, then pour in the chocolate mixture and place on ice. This will take about eight hours to harden.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

Not even a grand piano dominating a room more than that narrow, horizontal slab known as a mantel. It's usually in the middle of the room, also it projects conspicuously half way up a wall, and it is generally the repository of some choice decorative pieces. For all of which reasons the mantel catches the eye as soon as one enters the room, and it can beautify or ugly the place.

Why is a mantel, anyway? Like many objects now regarded as decorative it probably had purely utilitarian origins. It began as a shelf conveniently stuck over the fireplace, so as to keep lighted candlesticks within easy reach. Also it was a comfortable place for suspending samplers, ladies and other cooking equipment. When you see such mantels now spread across the generous expanse of a farmhouse fireplace it is charming, even though its honey quality is now gilded with the label "antique."

Today mantels are fashionable, too, in many colors, and they come in all sorts of materials—wood, tile, brick, marble, chintz, or elaborately carved. But the old-fashioned mantel which is in the room because it serves a definite purpose is still the most charming of the lot.

Occasionally a young housekeeper moving into a new apartment is puzzled about the conspicuous mantel in the living room. What shall be done with it? How is it to be treated?

To begin with, has it any use? Curiously enough, one often finds a mantel in the living room which does not boast a fireplace. It may just have happened there because of a holder's fancy, or it may be a leftover from a fireplace period. There was a time not so very long ago when people got the idea that a fireplace was fussy and old-fashioned and so they bricked it up or covered it with a metal shield. Many farmhouses actually put in parlor stoves which were regarded as more elegant at the time than open fires. On any case, the cheery fireplace was suppressed, but the mantel remained. That left it without any purpose, and so gradually out took on the functions of a what-not. A vase with flowers, a clock, a candlestick or two, some fine bits of china reposed on the mantel.

And that's all that can very well be done with a mantel that doesn't tower over a fireplace. For which reason the best thing to do with a mantel occasionally is to remove it. When it serves no real purpose, it actually is a waste of space. For it cuts into a wall breaking up space as much as a doorway—if not more. And the fine decorative pieces can usually be displayed just as effectively in other parts of the room—in a low table, atop a bookcase, and so on.

The flavoring may be the juice of lemons or oranges. A combination of one large lemon and a medium-sized orange, with a little grated lemon rind is tasty. Or grated chocolate. Or before pouring the mixture into the pie shell add one-half a teaspoon of almond flavoring.

Meringue is prepared by beating egg whites stiff, then adding two tablespoons of sugar and one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Meringue is improved by being flavored, although frequently it is made merely by adding a little sugar to egg white.

Another favorite creamy mixture is that popularly known as "icebox cake," and it may be made in several ways. It is a dessert that is "cooked in the icebox" and therefore must be prepared several hours before serving.

WOMEN OF INDIA ASKING FREEDOM

Propose 16 As Age For Marriage of All Natives

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Women of India are asking for absolute freedom to choose in marriage whom they want, was the message brought here to the world congress of the Theosophical society by Mrs. Arundale Arundale of Madras, India.

"Women throughout India have suffrage," said Mrs. Arundale, "and as a means to freedom of selection in marriage they seek to raise the age of marriage by law. The opposition has been from the English. "There is no law in India fixing the age of marriage or the age of consent. We propose a minimum age of 16."

The theory advanced by the English to explain their obstruction of our attempts to get marriage legislation is that they do not wish to interfere with India's religious institutions, according to Mrs. Arundale.

"This is illegal. In the first place child marriage are not authorized by Indian religion. On the contrary, the old Hindu teaching set the minimum age limit of 16, such as we seek to have prescribed by law. In the second place it is a matter for women to decide."

ate, I would have terrible attacks of gas and bloating spells. My bowels were always constipated. It seems nothing I did, would give me any relief. Sometimes I would have headaches that would make me dizzy with pain. My kidneys had not been acting very good for some time. Bladder weakness caused me to get up several times at night.

"Finally the condition got so bad that rheumatism set in and caused me a great deal of suffering. When stomach and intestinal disorders, I thought it would go just like a lot of other things I had taken that seemed to do me good for a while but then lost their effect, but I want to say right here, that it just seemed to drive the poisons from my system that were causing me so much trouble.

"Almost from the first bottle, I could see a change. My bowels started to function normally, stomach felt better and once again I am able to eat anything I want without suffering afterwards. My kidneys are acting normally, headaches are gone. I certainly bless the day when I learned about this fine old Indian Remedy."

ILLINOIS FINDS TROUBLE MAKING GAS TAX LEGAL

27 Two-Cent Tax
Has Hard Road;
New Bill

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 13.—Illinois, a leader in construction of oil roads, finds it difficult to write a gasoline tax law for their own construction that will stand up under legal attacks.

In 1927, a two-cent tax law was passed, jammed past an unwilling legislature and a hostile public by state administration, at that time headed by former Gov. Len small. The bill immediately was given up by its opponents, tossed into the hopper of the courts, finally taking its way to the supreme court, where it was held unconstitutional. Today the matter is yet unsettled as to whether a large portion of the money collected under this law—some $6,000,000 or $7,000,000—belongs to the state or the oil companies.

TRY NEW MEASURE

Then this spring the state legislature, with public sentiment changed, passed a new tax on gasoline, this time raising the levy to three cents per gallon.

Everyone seemed satisfied. Governor Louis L. Emmerson favored the tax. The downstate wanted it. The only rumbling came from the men of Chicago, which thought that the division of the proceeds the state was getting more than its share in proportion to the amount paid in.

First indications that the constitutionality of the second of the state's gasoline tax laws was to be challenged came when the Chicago Motor Coach company paid its tax under protest. The tax was comparatively small—some $3,000—but the principle was large.

INJUNCTION SUIT

Then the company filed an injunction suit seeking to restrain payment into the state treasury of amount it had paid in under its law. A temporary writ was issued following this plea but not preventing the state from collecting the tax.

It suit as to the constitutionality of the act is expected to be heard at the November term of circuit court here. Its final settlement is expected to be made later at the hands of the state supreme court.

In the meantime Illinois motorists pay their 3 cent per gallon tax and the prospect that the millions collected will be tied up by litigation is now the collections made by the new defunct 2 cent tax.

CONNECTICUT WAGES FIGHT ON MOSQUITO

New Haven, Sept. 13.—Nearly the entire Connecticut share from General to Saybrook has been added to the fight of the state to eliminate the mosquito nuisance, according to the state agricultural experiment station here which is directing the work. A ditch 10 inches wide and 24 inches deep, dug at a cost of $15 an acre, will remain effective for years if cleaned once a year, the station finds.

The inland town of New Canaan ridged itself of mosquitoes by spraying on the inlets and coves of the Housatonic river, the one stream in the town, and then after cleaning up the stream bed, introducing small fish. The result was that the larvae up all the larvae of the mosquitoes.

New Models Of Packard Eight

Which have been awaited with much interest since August 1 when the Packard company announced they would be forthcoming in the early fall are announced today. They were placed on display in practically all parts of the country at the same time.

They are characteristically Packard in appearance although with subtle changes that add much to the provincial Packard beauty. Comfort, convenience, beauty and safety might be called the keynotes in the new Packards. Changes which have been made in the chassis and in the bodies add much in all four of these attributes which the car has always been credited with in big measure. Packard has increased facilities of its body factory and now is in complete control of building quality and beauty into its bodies as well as its motors and chassis.

With three complete lines and in addition the almost unlimited choice offered in individual custom bodies by the best known custom body builders of the country, Packard now completely covers the fine car field.

There are 11 different types in each line of cars with bodies made within Packard's own shops and four different wheel bases. They are known as the Packard Standard

Eight with prices ranging from $2,775 for the five passenger sedan to $2,775 for the seven passenger sedan-limousine; the Packard Custom

Eight with prices from $3,190 to $3,885 and the Packard DeLuxe Eight from $4,985 to $5,350.

The five passenger sedan in the Standard Eight line has a wheel base of 127 1/2 inches and the other ten body models have a wheel base of 134 1/2 inches. All models of the Custom Eight have a wheel base of 140 1/2 inches and DeLuxe cars are all on the 140 1/2 inch wheel base chassis.

The Packard lines are retained in conformity with the company's policy of years. They are given added beauty, however, by a broad moulding which has a graceful curve at the back and which sweeps forward over the coal. Another moulding follows along the bottom body sill. The cars are also 1 1/2 inches lower. This with the new mouldings and method of striping gives them the appearance of being even longer than they are.

Inspection of the new Packards makes quite apparent that there has been a dominance of the feminine influence in many features of their design. First, of course, there is the beauty of appearance of the whole car. Then there are the great many features incorporated into the car which reduce the conscious efforts of driving to the minimum. Added to these points are the adjustable features to suit operation of each car as well to the dainty miss as the six foot man.

As indicating how Packard has carried the individualizing of the bodies, there are small hand made nets fastened to the heavily upholstered arm rests in the DeLuxe enclosed cars. These cars also have a deep plush robe for the rear compartment floor covering. Solid black walnut is used effectively in the interior trim of the cars. The enclosed types have unusual vanity and smoking sets, those in the Standard Eight being worked into the heavily upholstered arm rests. There are broad carpeted foot rests, unusual hand holds, effective broad lace trim and heading and a great many other effective little personal touches to add beauty to the interior.

Even the bottoms of the auxiliary seats in the seven passenger Standard Eight Sedan cars are finished with heavily pleated upholstery to match the rest of the car interior.

Each line has four different open car types, the roadster, seven passenger touring, phaeton and sport phaeton. All of the open cars are even more rakish and sleek in appearance than ever and have many features of upholstering and fitting to add to their attractiveness.

Knobs at each side of the instrument boards on all model open doors and disclose compartments or lockers built into the overhead waste space on most motor cars. On one side ample space is offered for glove or purse while on the other ods now having been discovered for making it of a quality which will meet the standards fixed by Packard for its plate glass. As a part of these new methods, the glass in laminated in washed air and with both humidity and temperature of the air rigidly controlled.

A four speed transmission has been designed and built by Packard for the new models. It retains the choke and spark pull rods, for the light and throttle switches on the steering wheel and a decorative effect is obtained in the steering wheel by a ring of the same material and a small horn button. Another key is on the instrument board when pulled out discloses a reading lamp for the driver's seat.

From the ceiling of the front compartment of all enclosed cars shades lower to guard the eyes when driving into the sun or glaring lights. They can be set at any angle or flicked back flat against the top. Both the drivers' seats and the steering wheels are adjustable.

Unusual vision is given in the front compartment by a front body pillar that has been made just as narrow as possible and preserve the same body strength.

Another safety feature lies in the fact that wind-shields and windows are of non-shatterable glass, methodine airplane motors are incorporated into the new engines. There is also a new soft lift cam shaft. The sturdy crankshaft, rigidly held in nine main bearings, is said to be as possible, even smoother in operation. The entire power plant is declared to be even quieter, smoother and more powerful.

With its instant chassis lubricator Packard several years ago paraphrased the adage that "a stitch in time saves nine" and proved that "a drop of oil today is worth a gallon next month." The chassis lubrication system has been extended to include 43 points on the chassis which are oiled every day with no greater effort than that required to wind a watch.

A new carburetor has been developed by Packard. It is said to have many advantages in smoothness of operation, acceleration, starting, steel bearing and easy

"MY NEIGHBOR TOLD ME--"

Characteristic of Oldsmobile ownership everywhere is a certain spirit of neighborliness about motor cars—an expressed desire to share a good thing with others. This active owner loyalty is probably the most conclusive proof that could be found of the long, faithful service that Oldsmobile cars give their owners.

Thousands of messages, evidence of the universal high regard which Oldsmobile owners have for their cars, have been received at Olds Motor Works. Here are a few, telling why these owners bought their cars and why they are increasingly happy in their ownership.

"Oldsmobile's all-around high-class performance is the best in its price field. I think it's the most car for the money. I notice that all the owners I meet speak highly of its easy riding, smoothness, speed and the sonorous, distinctive ring of its bodies." —Milwaukee, Wis.

"Oldsmobile owners boosted the product to me. Their low gas and oil consumption, and the fact that Oldsmobile is a General Motors product, sold me very strongly on the car." —Milwaukee, Wis.

These friendly notes, selected at random from the many, are typical of owner opinion the country over. Ask your own neighbor—just as one friend to another—what he thinks of his Oldsmobile. And he'll tell you in his own way the same story of fine performance and dependable service that is causing thousands of buyers to fill buy another one when I get ready for a new car." —Minneapolis, Minn.

CHICAGO CURBS SMOKE EVIL IN BUSY DISTRICTS

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The smoke evil here which has called down the wrath of health authorities is to be curbed in the downtown district by smokeless locomotives, none of which are already in use by railroads operating the city's switching district.

This disclosure was made by Frank Chambers, chief smoke inspector for the city.

During the past few days as the smoke trial board, comprising Chambers, representatives of the railroad companies, and representatives of the smoke-free neighborhoods, heard violations of the smoke ordinances, they found that the most frequent offender in the past had had no complaints for two weeks.

This railroad, the Pennsylvania line, two weeks ago had adopted smokeless coal in all locomotives operated in the city. The use of this coal has reduced the number of violations by this railroad from 15 or 20 a day to none, according to Chambers.

Electrification on other railroads is solving the smoke nuisance. Nine new electric locomotives have been ordered by the Illinois Central line. The Michigan Central has taken up recommendations for motor-driven engines. The Northwestern line has three such engines in its yards and the Milwaukee road is getting one for the north branch.

German Statue To Old Roman Writer

Neumagen, Sept. 13.—This small city on the Moselle, which still retains much of its ancient Roman appearance, has just unveiled a monument to the Roman Decimus Magnus Ausonius, the first known writer to write a poem about this beautiful German river.

Ausonius, son of a physician, was born in Burdigala, the modern Bordeaux, about 310 A. D. At first a lawyer, he became a teacher of rhetoric and grammar at about the age of 30, and was appointed preceptor to Gratian, the son of the Emperor Valentinian.

Emperor Gratian appointed him consul in 397, and he later became prefect of Lutium Libya and Gaul. He first saw the Moselle at Neumagen, and wrote in its praise "Mosella," one of his best known poems.

Girl Leads Rifle Team To Victory

SURE SHOT Mary Ward, 19-year-old Chicago girl, led the United States Dewar Rifle team to a decisive victory over Great Britain in the annual international competition at Camp Perry, O., when she fired a 365 score out of a possible 400. Mary had to share the spotlight with another Chicagoan, when the youngest member of the team, 14-year-old Bradford Wiles, scored a 394 out of a possible 400.

Waters Are High

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Prevailing high water levels in Lake Michigan are threatening to cost the city of Chicago over $150,000 on one project alone, according to Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe.

Austin, Tex.—"The Little Fox", who has so many bullet holes in him he resembles a Swiss cheese, and claims to be more perforated than any other living Texan, has just completed 34 years of service with the Texas Rangers.

Village to Fight For Slain Chief's Name

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The village of Elmwood Park is threatening to go to court to clear the good name of Theodore Schuette, its police chief, who was slain in a roadside after it is alleged he whipped out his pistol and threatened the lives of money-makers.

Village officials have announced that they may seek a murder warrant for Policeman Fred Bryan, who shot Schuette three times. Bryan has been exonerated by a coroner's jury.

The murder charge would not be filed for the purpose of convicting Bryan, the officials said, but solely to clear the name of Chief Schuette, who was accused of being in a drunken rage and brandishing his revolver when slain.

"We don't believe Schuette was drunk, they said, and don't believe he was threatening to kill anyone. Village Atty. Daniel Webster said: "We tried to bring them out at the inquest, but they would not let us question the witnesses. If we go into a court on a murder charge we can question them."

"It is bad enough for Schuette to have been killed. For the sake of his five children we want to clear his reputation if we can."

MIXING RACES CAUSES TROUBLE

Denver Fireman Loses Job After Girl Ends Life

Denver, Sept. 13.—Only disaster resulted in the latest attempt to unite east and west in marriage.

Marie Kunimoto, daughter of Dr. N. Kunimoto, Japanese physician, committed suicide by shooting herself when she thought her suitor, James Lynch, former Denver City fireman, had jilted her on the eve of their scheduled marriage.

Lynch, in spite of his spirited contention that he was detained in another part of the state "on business" during the day of their planned nuptials, was dismissed from the city fire department because his behavior was "unbecoming a member of the department and tended to lower the service in the estimation of the public."

Charges Filed

The charges were filed against Lynch with the manager of safety and excise by Fire Chief John F. Healy.

Dr. Kunimoto, himself, the husband of a white woman, was so moved by the tragedy that followed the intended marriage between east and west, that he is writing a book on the evils of uniting two races in matrimony. Dr. Kunimoto is preparing to leave the state for his home country where he will spend the remainder of his life. He has been a resident of Denver for many years.

During the trial which preceded his conviction of violating rule 33 of the laws regulating the city fire department, Lynch testified that it

HE SUFFERED FOR TEN YEARS

Then ALL-BRAN Brought Relief in 2 Months—Doctor Recommended It.

Constipation is dreaded not only for its own insidious self, but because of the many serious conditions and diseases it causes. Mr. Lind was a sufferer—but read how he found relief.

"For the past 10 years I have suffered from piles. At times I have been unable to work. At times I have been unable to eat. I have tried suppositories, enemas, etc., but to no avail.

"Two months ago my grocer called my attention to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I began taking it regularly. Immediately the pain and annoyance from the piles was relieved. I found that it requires very little ALL-BRAN to give nature a fair chance to effect a cure."—WALTER J. LIND, R. 2, Box 137, Appleton, Wis.

Don't neglect constipation. At any time its poisons may take terrible toll from your health and well-being. Protect yourself. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly—two tablespoonsfuls daily, or in chronic cases, with every meal. ALL-BRAN brings sure, natural relief. It is what doctors call a bulk food. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action.

Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Also try the recipes on the package. Results guaranteed. Doctors recommend it because it is 100% bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Served in hotels, restaurants, and dining cars. Sold by all grocers.

was "what people were saying" that caused his fiancee's suicide.

Friendly Objected

Lynch testified that his mother went into hysterics when he told her that he would marry his Japanese sweetheart. His brother's heated objections caused much disturbance when he visited the Kunimoto home in an attempt to end the affair, Lynch said. Lynch's fellow firemen told him that he would be an outcast for the rest of his life if he married a Japanese girl, All this was wearing on Marie Lynch said. But despite the opposition, they were planning to go through with the ceremony.

Invitations had been sent to 300 guests to attend a church wedding.

Attorneys for Lynch will appeal his dismissal to the city Civil Service Commission.
